TSS Scholarly Production Grants Program Guidelines and Application Procedure

The T'ang Studies Society is pleased to announce funding to support the production or dissemination of in-progress or completed research on the Tang dynasty in a broad geographical and chronological scope. These grants are designed to facilitate the presentation of scholarly research in any discipline to academic and/or general audiences via print publication, digital platforms, or conference organization. They can support various types of expenses related to production such as copy-editing and online database entry, and dissemination such as publication subventions, image reproduction fees, volume completion fees, and conference organization costs.

General Requirements:

- This grant is intended to support research by scholars who hold the Ph.D. and are at any career stage.
- Research may involve the Sui, Tang, and Five Dynasties period (589—959 C.E.), and Tang in a global context, tracing cultural and political connections to Korea, Japan, Central Asia, and beyond.

Eligibility:

- Applicants must be members of the Society in good standing at the time of application. Information on membership can be found at www.tangstudies.org/Membership.
- Applicants for Scholarly Production Grants also may apply for other types of Society grants during a given year, but annually can receive a maximum of one grant award and one subvention for participation on a TSS sponsored panel at the AAS conference.
- T'ang Studies Society officers are not eligible for grant funding.

Grant Information:

Amount of Award: Up to $3000

Application Deadline: June 1, 2021. Recipients will be notified by June 21, 2021.

Except in exceptional circumstances, grant funds are ordinarily disbursed upon submission of receipts or invoices.

Application Process:

Applicants must submit:

- a two-page proposal describing the project and the specific production and dissemination expenses that this grant would support;
- a C.V.;
- a budget that itemizes anticipated expenses;
- a statement describing what support, if any, the applicant expects to receive from other sources (including from his or her institution).

The application should be emailed as a pdf to apply@tangstudies.org.
